The Holy Bible

In society, we are bombarded with all sorts of negativity regarding the most intimate and sacred human relationship ordained by God. Marriage is (still) honorable in all (Hebrews 13:4). Therefore, we must seriously honor marriage to be the institution God created to enjoy companionship, friendship, intimacy and unconditional love in a familial bond. Because of its importance to God, this relationship should be held in high esteem and not devalued.

This information learned in this class will enable those attending to have happy marriages and to help their family and friends with their marriages. Complete honesty is a requirement, and hard work is a necessity. Additionally, a positive attitude is mandatory. Although personal shortcomings may be revealed, keep in mind the purpose is edification, not destruction. May God continue to bless you during your journey together.
